A large, stylized graphic of a pair of glasses frames, rendered in a teal color, occupies the central portion of the advertisement. The frames are open at the top and bottom, with the temples extending downwards. The background behind the frames is a lighter shade of teal, creating a layered effect.

On their changing fashions, and the prices and choices we offer make it affordable to have more than one pair of frames. Although the most popular womens eyeglasses tend to have softer lines and more feminine colors than men's eyewear, with the exception of cat eye frames, most womens glasses are unisex. With a range of prices, frame shapes, and materials along with a variety of color combinations for both eyewear frames and lenses, Eyeglasses .com makes it easy to buy multiple elegant pairs to suit different occasions such as work, school, or leisure.
